Chancemen Have Long Lead in Early Stages, but Can't Maintain It.

The defeat of the New Yorks by the St. Louis Browns yesterday makes it impossible for the Chancemen to get out of last place during the present series. The Athletics suffered another setback at the hands of the White Sox, but it cost nothing, as the Clevelands again lost to the Washingtons. The Red Sox won another game from the Detroit and now are tied with the White Sox for

On top of these errors the Browns after being puz-Ford during the first six frames suddenly fell upon his easy delivery and batted terrifically. and thereby piled on the agony.

The New Yorks had comparatively little frouble manufacturing runs while Taylor, a Texas Leaguer, was in the box. He was as wild as the man of Borneo handing out six passes and unhooking two erratic pitches. The Chancemen gathered seven hits from his curves, and when Wellman, the Human Natl, finished the fifth inning the figures were 7 to 2 against the visitors. Thereafter Wellman didn't allow another run, although he was knocked out of the box in Tuesday's affair.

Maisel partially made up for his brace of errors by scoring two runs and sending two more across the pan with a timely base hit. The Browns used three catchers. Ag-new not only had his foot injured, but Chief Umpire Ferguson put him off the field for kicking. Huggins to Manage

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.-Miller Huggins will be the 1914 manager of the Cardinals. Before ten days have elapsed Huggins's signature will be attached to a contract making him the 1914 leader of the Cardinals. This news comes from President Schuyler P. Britton, who was in Chicago with the team Monday and Tuesday. The magnate and manager had a long conference Tuesday afternoon, when terms were agreed upon. Only the formality of signing remains. The contract for Huggins will be for one year only, not because that is the length offered by Britton. Huggins is the one to request only a one year contract.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 10 .- The Giants to day began their final dash across the western range, and one on which they must look to their knitting carefully if they are to reach the pennant pole ahead they are to reach the pennant pole ahead of all other explorers, by polishing off the doughty Pirates in tidy fashion. The score was 5 to 2. The Giants carried on their part of the scrap with more skill and more vim than the Pirate foe, their bats being implements of which they made opportune use and their fielding being admirable to bolster up Big Jeff Tesreau to his best efforts.

Jeff was not at all bashful about issuing bases on balls, but such slumps

Jeff was not at all bashful about issuing bases on balls, but such slumps into wayward control didn't alter the fact that he pitched effectively. His passes did no harm for three reasons. He never gave one to the first batter up, he was able to put the ball over and keep from being hit when men were lingering at the booths, and his support was vigilant and manually excellent. It was a spirited and well conducted game that the Glants played. They hit the ball with men on bases even if they did not hit it often, and they clinched the victory with three assorted prods in the tory with three assorted prods in the tory with three assorted prods in the seventh inning.

The accuracy and strength of Jack Murray's arm were in striking evidence on a couple of occasions in disarming black flag persons. Besides throwing out a man at first on an outfield hit Murray's wide awayes throw counts. ray's wide awake throw caught Wagner as the latter was turning first base after a single and cut down the Pirates when were showing their only signs of rally. George Burns proved of value as a fourth place batter by driving in two runs and with two out each time. He did so the first time in the first inning. The Giants adopted the system of hitting at the first good ball pitched and Snodgrass spanked the opening pitch to Carey in deep left. Doyle, however, found that waiting was the better policy, for the reason that McQuillan didn't curl one ball in four over for him. He waiked that stole second but for him. He walked and stole second, but was run down when Fletcher stabbed to McQuillan. By the time he was cornered Fletcher had reached second and Burns the Giants was a high throw by Fletcher on Viox in the first inning. However, said miscue proved a hindrance for the Pirates, for Viox tried for second on the play and was thrown out by Merkle. The latter made the most of the advantage acquired by the ball bounding back to him from the stand.

McQuillan had good and bad innings, one of the former kind being the second, in which he struck out the side. He began on Murray, paused while Meyers banged a two bagger to left and resumed whiff operations at the expense of Merkle and Tesreau. In the fourth inning he was still in familing mood and made Snodgrass retreat by that method. Doyle called a halt by sending a two bagger to centre, and after Fletcher had grounded to Dolan and retired Burns cleaved the scenery with a sharp single to centre and brought in marp single to centre and brought in The Giants managed to get in steals and kept up that policy all day, but for the most part Mike Simon threw pretty well. He and Meyers were a busy pair of backgtops. Meyers's activities pair of backstops, Meyers's activities consisting largely of snatching down foul flies, a weakness to which the Skull and Crossbones society was much addicted. The chief made a thinely haul of a foul fly in the fourth off Miller and ended the inning with two journeymen on the bases. nning with two journeymen on the bases inning with two journeymen on the bases and waiting for the succor which never came. With two out, Viox hit for two bases, and rather than give Wagner what he wanted Tesreau tried to make the Dutchman go after bad ones. Honus wouldn't bite and therefore sauntered. Miller was more amenable to Tesreau's discipline and fouled out.

Jeff interlarded the home team with two gifts. The walkers were Mitchell and McQuillan, but the passes were snugly packed in between outs, which took the form of one ground ball, and two files. Tesreau came right back in the sixth by countersigning two passes. He and Merkle took care of Carey's bunt, and Wagner and Viox were the ones who were favored with free passage. The remedy for that was a double play which was duly inserted when Miller trundled a grounder to Doyle. As a hitter in pinches Miller didn't pass muster.

grounder to Doyle. As a hitter in pinches Miller didn't pass muster.

The seventh being the stretch inning the Giants did some of it, in fact had a monopoly of it, stretching their efforts out to the extent of three runs, the margin by which they eventually won. Shafer walked and Murray bunted. The ball took a fantastic hop away from McQuillan and yielded a base hit. Simon's bad throw to second to catch Shafer napping, put the latter on third and Meyers's two bagger put him in possession of a run. Merkle chopped a single through Viox and scored Murray and Meyers.

Merkle got a long lead on McQuillan and stole third, being aided by Simons's loop throw. The Pirates were aggrieved at Orth's pronouncement that Merkle was safe and upon making their grievances were more troublesome. Carey doubled and Viox's single to centre scored him. Snodgrass, for reasons past understand-ing by the lay mind, instead of holding Viox at first made a useless hurl all the way to—the plate and allowed Viox to take second. Wagner singled to right and Viox from his position. and Viox from his position at second was able to cross the plate. Murray, with a keener eye for opportunities, wasted no energy on a throw to the plate, but with a quick grasp of the situation threw on a perfect line to first, from which har-bor Wagner had strayed away and was touched out by Merkle. WHEATLEY SURPRISES ALL IN 440 YARD SWIM

Wins National Title, Beating Goodwin and Tomlinson-Bud Quits Game.

J. C. Wheatley, swimming unattached, created a surprise yesterday at Travers Island when he showed the way home in the 440 yard national championship belunder the auspices of the New York A. C. Wheatley, who is practically unknown to fame, annexed the title by beating Bud Goodwin, a veteran of a long string of victories, and Gilbert Temlinson, the boy wonder from Philadelphia.

Taking the lead after going about ten yards. Wheatley went to the front with a powerful stroke and from then on never was headed. He won by five feet Gilbert Tomlinson was second, his time being 6 minutes 6 2-5 seconds, and Robert Dippy of the Philadelphia Swimming Club was third in 6 minutes 6 4-5 sec-Bud Goodwin of the New York Swimming Club was fifth. Chauncey P. Heath of the Missouri A. C. of St. Louis was the only other starter. Heath pulled up about 150 yards from home. The Missouri A. C. man was the first to take the water, but after a dozen strokes Wheatley went to the front and made the pace from that point. Wheat-ley's time for the first ap, 110 yards, was 1 minute 15 4-5 seconds. For the 220 yard mark the winner's time was 2:52 1-5 and for the 330 mark his time was 4:27 3-5. At one stage of the race, coming home in the stretch, Tomlinson came with a great spurt and it looked as if he would overhaul the winner, but Wheatley shook him off, taking a fresh lead, and held it to the finish. After the struggle Goodwin announced that he was through with the game for-ever. Wheatley, the hero of the after-noon, first learned to plough through the water on the Hudson River and has been in the game only about a year. For a short period he was a member of the City A. C. So Says McGraw of Glants' Appeal on Lynch's Ruling.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 10 .- John J. McGraw manager of the Giants, believes that the National League directors will throw out the game between the New York and Philadelphia teams of Saturday, August 30, and order it played over.

"I don't see how they can do anything else," said the little Napoleon.

"A technicality beat the Giants out of a pennant in 1908. My club was awarded that game in Philadelphia on August 50 in an important series on a ground rule which was understood by both sides before the contest. This amounted to mor than a technicality, and yet the I hiladel-phia protest was sustained and Mr. Lynch said he waived all technicalities in making his decision against New York.

"It seems as if any time there is a technicality it works against the Glants. Brennan did right in forfeiting the game to New York. Mr. Lynch's verdict gave the game to the Phillies without letting the Glants have any opportunity to make use of the remaining two outs. To give us a square deal the contest should be played over at least."

Bunch Their Hits, Speed Three Men Across in Second and Then Rest, Satisfied.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Nap Rucker was himself to-day, and as a result the Cubs ate the grit of defeat, the figures being 3 to 1 in favor of the Dodgers. It was only through the generosity of Rucker that the Cubs were able to make any impression on the score board. He walked Miller in the second inning and a moment later James Archer, slugging demon, poled the pellet to centre for three sacks, sending Miller home with the Cubs lonesome score, Sizing up Archer on third the great Rucker decided it was high to quit the generosity system and he forthwith caused Larry Cheney to puncture the atmosphere and then Fisher puncture the atmosphere and then Fisher pegged out Leach.

The Dodgers bunched their hits and runs in one stanza, the second. Daubert opened this gleefest with a slam over Corriden for a cushion. Smith was re-tired at first. Daubert hiking to second. Fisher hoisted a high one to Miller and Fischer ambied. Rucker bounded an infield hit back of Cheney and the bases were filled. Moran could not see anything that looked good to him, and when he walked Daubert was forced in with a run. Cutshaw crashed a single to centre, scoring Fischer and Rucker. Cutshaw tried to make it a double and died at second.

The Cubs had an excellent opportunity to tie the score in the third, but Rucker tightened up like a miser on his deathbed and there was nothing doing. Phelan beat out an infield hit and Schulte wafted his compliments to Stengel. Zimmerman hit safely and Saler strolled, filling the sacks. War Miller hit to Smith and Phelan was nailed at the plate. Miller was forced at second and the side was retired. Rucker fanned three men in the fifth. The score:

Good With Murray

PITTSBURG, Sept. 16.-Red Murray performed to-day the seldom seen feat of throwing out a batter at first base on an "outfield hit." The ball was driven to right field on the first bound. Murray was on top of it in no time, let go on a bee line to Merkle and the throw beat the runner by a step, Merkle making the catch with a long reach close to the ground. McQuillan was the batter thus returned to the bench, and a much surprised individual he was.

Sam Langford and Gunboat Smith will Sam Langford and Gunboat Smith will not be permitted to go through with their match at Madison Square Garden. The State Athletic Commission held a meeting at 41 Park Row yesterday to consider the request of the managers of these heavy-weights, together with that of Matchmaker Gibson of the Garden A. C., to have the rule prohibiting bouts between negroes and white men rescinded. After arguments favoring the annulment of the rule had been heard a vote was taken. While Secretary Harvey an ment of the rule had been heard a vote was taken. While Secretary Harvey announced that the commission had voted to let the rule stand and also created the impression that the vote was unanimous, it was learned by THE SUN last night that there was a division of opinion. Chairman Frank S. O'Neil and Major John J. Dixon voted to make no change in the rule, while James R. Price voted to abolish the measure. As Price originally framed the rule and several days ago made up his mind that it was unfair to discriminate against colored boxers it

The who know what happened behind the cloed doors said that Dixon and Price were asked to cast their votes before O'Neil, and that when O'Neil beat the resolution with his ballot there was much lifteeling.

For some time stories have been in circulation to the effect that the affairs of the commission have become tangled with politics. O'Nell has been on the outs with Dixon and Harvey, it is reported, ever since he voted to cancel the license of Madison Square Garden when it was controlled by P. T. Powers and Harry Pollok. O'Netl and Price have stood tosether ever since the latter's vote made O'Neil chairman of the commission, but it seems that this alliance has been Langford's manager, Joe Woodman told the commission yesterday that the rule was unfair to the noted colored boxes in view of his exemplary behavior and popularity in Great Britain. France, Australia and all over the United States Smith's manager, James Buckley, declared that he wanted to have the rule wiped out so that the Gunboat could whip Langford before a representative New York crowd. Gibson argued that there was great interest in the bout and that if it was allowed, big gate receipts would result.

When the commission's decision was They had been led to believe that no obstacles would be thrown in the way of the bout, which was arranged tenta
